The Hendrix College Choir and Madrigal Singers will perform here at 7 p.m. on Sunday, May 10, at First United Methodist Church.

Under the direction of Robert McGill, associate professor of music, the choir has presented concerts in 12 states in the past eight years spanning the country from Pennsylvania to Colorado to Louisiana. After hearing the concert in Nashville, Tenn., Louis Nicholas of the Nashville Tennessean wrote, "the choir is a well-balanced unit, invariably good blend, the music speaks for itself."

Recently the choir appeared with orchestra presenting two concerts in one of the four special convocations leading up to the inauguration of Hendrix College's new president, Dr. Roy B. Shilling, Jr. In past years the choir has sung for the American Choral Directors Association, Music Educators National Conference, American Guild of Organists and for the Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Church.

This summer the Hendrix Choir and Madrigal Singers will tour five countries in Europe in a five week tour at which time they will attend an eighteen day symposium in Vienna of Music in the Classical Tradition, all under the sponsorship of the Institute of European Studies.

The program presented this Sunday, May 10, at First United Methodist Church will include music of the tour program as it will be sung by both the Choir and the Madrigal Singers.

Relations Committee—Mansfield, and Sens. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho.

Five other senators, meantime, sent telegrams to more than 400 student leaders urging support of their efforts to cut off funds for the Southeast Asia war.

"Your letters, phone calls, petitions and personal visits to your senators and congressmen are urgently needed during the next three or four crucial weeks," the telegram said. Signing the telegram were

Nixon, who holds a news conference at 10 p.m. tonight, spent the night at his Camp David retreat in nearby Maryland. But, before leaving, he conferred for more than an hour with the Citizens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam, a fact-finding team which recently completed a tour of Indochina.

The President is reported to have told them that destruction of North Vietnamese bases in Cambodia would gain eight to 12 months of time before enemy troops could rebuild the bases for use in the Vietnam war.

Herb Klein, the administration's communications director, said later the aim of the Cambodian strategy was to give the United States 10 to 12 more months to train South Vietnamese to take over the fighting.

Klein spoke on ABC's Dick Cavett show.

A State Department spokesman said Thursday U.S. policy is not to become involved in Cambodian affairs. The spokesman, Robert J. McCloskey, refused to discuss reports from Saigon that American boat forces had been assigned to operate up the Mekong River to Phnom Penh.

Nixon pledged to congressional committees that U.S. troops would strike no deeper than 21.7 miles into Cambodia. He said if they went further, he would seek congressional approval.

In Congress, Democrats geared up to push the amendment to bar funds for the Cambodia operation.

The amendment will be formally introduced Monday and is expected to come before the committee the same day. Mansfield said Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., expects to report the military sales bill to the Senate late next week.

In its revised form, the amendment bars all funds for "retaining United States ground forces in Cambodia," prohibits funds for instruction of Cambodian military forces or hiring mercenaries to fight for Cambodia, and forbids aerial combat by the U.S. Air Force above the Southeast Asian nation "except for the interdiction of enemy supplies or personnel using Cambodian territory for attack against or access into South Vietnam."

Boe said he hoped other regional governors conferences would follow the Southern group's lead.

"We have come to the realization that all the brains aren't in Washington or in one state and that if we are to attack the problem we must not be competing in governments," Boe said.

Moore said the federal government would be asked for several hundred thousand dollars to finance the Southern Conference program.

Russell E. Train, chairman of President Nixon's Council on Environmental Quality, told Rockefeller by letter that Timothy Atkeson, general counsel for the Council, had been designated to serve as liaison with the governors conference.

Rockefeller named Don S. Smith, commissioner of the Public Service Commissioner of the state Public Service Commission, as his representative on the multistate body.

The governor said the fight against pollution would be more effective if the states acted together and in cooperation with the federal government.

"The significance of this can be far-reaching, indeed," Rockefeller said. "In my view, this act of creative statecraft is an affirmative step toward a New Federalism in this country, so long predicted and so long delayed."

The governor said the states had final responsibility for the health, safety and welfare of their people.

"The South is determined to share in the planning and decisions affecting its environ-

Dr. Young to Contest Vote at Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Mitchell Young of Texarkana, Tex., the national president of Freedom Inc., Wednesday filed a notice contesting the Texarkana school board election last April 4.

Young was defeated by 61 votes by J.C. Crowmover.

The notice was filed in the Bowie County district clerk's office at Boston, Tex. District Clerk Winnie Stone said a representative of Young filed the notice.

Young had charge following the election that there were several irregularities in the election, that caused him to lose Crowmover.

He said there were violations of election laws, but particularly in the predominately Negro Sunset box. Young said that at Sunset marked ballots were used and voting was done in unauthorized areas.

After the election Young said "I have not lost this election. This is a battle, this is not the war. We are going to win the war."

Labor Fights Management Appointee

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany urged the Senate today to reject President Nixon's nomination of a business lawyer to the National Labor Relations Board, and said the labor federation would also oppose any union lawyer for the job.

"No one should be appointed to the board from the ranks of labor or management, and that includes union lawyers and employer lawyers," the 75-year-old labor chief said in testimony for the Senate Labor Committee.

Nixon's candidate is Edward B. Miller of Chicago.

larly hard hit by President Nixon's policies of tight money, high interest rates and federal spending cuts aimed at curbing the nation's worst inflation in 20 years.

The unemployment report added to economic worries over a skittish stock market and the continuing rise in living costs at a rate of more than 6 per cent a year.

It also added ammunition to the labor movement's warnings that Nixon's stringent economic policies designed to curb inflation were pushing the nation toward a recession without measurably slowing the price rise.

"The danger signals are flashing almost everywhere that the nation's current economic recession, slump, slowdown, or whatever term you like, may grow worse," said the AFL-CIO.

The 13.6 million member labor federation wants Nixon to ease, selectively, some economic restraints, continue others, provide stimulants for growth in some industries such as housing construction and to make the federal government the "employer of last resort" by providing public service jobs for those out of work.

AFL-CIO President George Meany has predicted that the nation's unemployment rate will soon climb to 6 per cent, highest level in 10 years, if the White House doesn't rapidly change national economic policy.

Unemployment was at a 15-year low of 3.3 per cent when Nixon took office in January 1969.

The judges were overwhelmingly in favor of proposed four-year terms instead of two-year terms and voted 23-21 in favor of eliminating the judicial duties of the county judge as proposed in the new constitution.

In another poll, 76 per cent of the circuit and chancery judges responding said they were opposed to combining the jurisdiction of the circuit and chancery courts. The proposed constitution would combine the duties under District Courts.

Larry Stewart, a Westark freshman from Fort Smith, said 37 of the 43 chancery and circuit judges in the state responded to his poll.

Governors Cancel Meet Due to Riots

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Republican governors, many of them facing turmoil on home-state campuses, have called off their spring political meeting because of "the critical nature of the present crisis."

Monday, joined by Democrats, they will meet with President Nixon at the White House. "This is no time to have a partisan conference," said Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, canceling the spring meeting of the Republican Governors' Association.

Most of his colleagues already had sent their regrets, and in the end only seven state governors made it to Santa Fe in time to go home again.

"The disruption of peace, violence and potential violence throughout the nation at this time has made it necessary for us to cancel this spring conference," said Shafer, association chairman.

The wave of campus demonstrations and disorders which flared after President Nixon ordered U.S. troops to attack across the borders of Cambodia led to a steady stream of last-minute cancellations from GOP governors. By Thursday, it was obvious that no more than a dozen governors would be coming to Santa Fe.

Shafer announced the cancellation a scant six hours before the governors and a throng of New Mexico Republicans were due at a barbecue at the Rado de Santa Fe. The barbecue went on while most of the governors went home.

Shafer announced that Nixon has asked all 50 governors to meet with him Monday at the White House. There are 32 Republican governors, 18 Democrats.

The GOP governors had planned two days of conferences, opening Friday, with election-year politics a dominant item on the agenda.

New Mexico Gov. David F. Cargo said the White House was consulted and had urged cancellation. "They had six White House people coming and they asked that it be cancelled," he said.

He said he would have hesitated to leave his state this week in view of the disturbances which led him to alert the National Guard and close the state university at Albuquerque at least until Monday.

Students protesting the war in South Vietnam and Cambodia had planned two demonstrations around the conference site in Santa Fe.

"The White House was very much concerned about having governors absent for several days from their states," Cargo said. "Hopefully, by Monday, it will simmer down enough so that we can meet in Washington."

prowled the campus and its environs. Windows were broken in two area banks and three university buildings.

Police said they had received a number of reports of a group of middle-aged men said to be roaming the campus, beating up students and spraying them with a chemical.

In Florida, Gov. Claude Kirk at Florida State University in Tallahassee. Kirk sat in a wicker chair and fielded questions from about 300 students.

Earlier more than 1,000 students had confronted 100 armed policemen guarding the entrance to the ROTC building, and demanded they take their guns off campus. Eventually the demonstrators dispersed and police remained armed.

At Kent State University, the faculty returns today to a silent campus to plan for reopening the school where four students were killed Monday by National Guardsmen during a demonstration.

Funeral services were held Thursday for two of the victims, Jeffrey G. Miller, 20, of Plainview, N.Y., and William Schroeder, 19, of Lorain, Ohio. Two coeds killed in the gunfire were buried earlier.

The slayings focused the burgeoning campus discontent over President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia and revitalized the antiwar movement.

The result was a call for a nationwide campus strike and many college closings.

An Associated Press survey showed 227 campuses closed during the week. The National Education Association in Washington says there are about 1,500 college and universities in the nation.

Eight university presidents said Thursday after conferring with President Nixon that he had assured them his administration would cease making hostile criticism of the academic community.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

PREDATORS STUDY VITAL STATISTICS COLUMNS

Dear Helen: Telephone solicitors I can take (though I'd rather not), but the kind who study vital statistics columns are too much!

You have a new baby. You're busy with formula, diapers, and just as Junior settles down for a nap, he's waked up screaming by the telephone.

The pattern of conversation is something like this: "Congratulations on your new baby. How is he doing? Does he look like you?"

You desperately try to recognize the voice.

Then, "Don't you remember me? I met you at Mrs. (Mumble's)." And here it comes, "Have you tried the XYZ Diaper Service?"

You've been trapped again! Not sold, perhaps, but fooled and imposed on.

Then there's the statistic watcher who studies the marriage announcements. Being young and inexperienced, the bride-to-be is often taken in by these sales pitches, especially if she thinks she's talking to a "friend."

But the cruellest, vilest and most obnoxious of these callers is the one who follows the obituaries. When the survivor is a woman, she is approached by "hot tipsters" on investments, real estate, all sorts of salesmen who want to get their grubby hands on her inheritance. And so often they pose as "business associates" of her late husband.

As a widow of two months, I know whereof I speak. During this time I have listened to predators—from realtors wanting to buy my home for a song, to "accountants" who would straighten out my affairs, to insurance and repair men, to investment brokers and even sellers of plastic flowers for the deceased grave. All these in the name of "sympathy," with a sales tag attached.

But the one that prompted this letter is the following call:

Caller: "I am Mr. Sam Smith and I want to tell you how sorry I am to hear of your husband's death. . . Would you have a small photo of him?"

Me: (Thinking he must be a good friend) "Well, yes, but not of him alone."

Mr. Smith: "That's all right. I can take his section and make a beautiful enlargement at a very low price."

That did it! I burst into tears and dropped the receiver. How long it was off the hook I don't know but some time later a repairman came to see if the line was out of order. It was!

If you see fit to print my letter, maybe it will get through to these numskulls how cruel they are. —MRS. H.E.F.

Dear Mrs. F: Your letter won't stop the vultures: Sales people who use death to turn a profit don't come equipped with consciences. But I'm sure your warnings will alert many innocents to the "vital statistics" pitch.

While such telephone callers are within the law, their names and addresses turned over to the Chamber of Commerce or Better Business Bureau, might at least bring a reprimand. —H.

Dear Helen: Here's a little change of pace for you! Definitions:

Socialism: You have two cows and give one to your neighbor.
Communism: You have two cows; the government takes both and gives you the milk.
Fascism: You have two cows; the government takes both and shoots you.

Bureau-ism: You have two cows, the government takes both, shoots one, milks the other, and throws the milk away.
Capitalism: You have two cows; you sell one and buy a bull. FROM A CALIFORNIA STATE EMPLOYEE'S BULLETIN.

DICK KLEINER IN HOLLYWOOD

Helen Still Belts 'Green Eyes'

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Nostalgia, for anybody over 40, is Helen O'Connell singing "Green Eyes" or "Tangerine" or any of those great old Jimmy Dorsey numbers.

Well, gang, rejoice. Suddenly, our kind of music is popular again, and CBS is trotting out a summer replacement show called Happy Days, and Helen and her ice-cream voice will be on a couple of the shows.

Helen is still working, and still doing well — has been since 1950. Yet people want to tell her she's making a comeback. It's the longest comeback in history.

Actually, she was with Jimmy Dorsey for only four years — it was a meaty four years, all right — from '39 to '43. Then she left to have herself a family.

She likes some of today's songs and uses them in her act, but she says "a majority of the performances are not very good." Anybody want to hear how a song should be sung, tune in to Happy Days and catch an earful of Prof. Helen O'Connell. She's still the best.

NOTABLES' QUOTABLES

"The casting couch? Oh, boy, it sure does still exist in this town. And a lot of girls get their start that way — but you can get somewhere that way only for a little while. Then you have to know your trade, and most of them don't." — Susanne Benton.

"To me, singing is a tonic. Even in the worst periods of hunger and depression — and I had some dismal times — the actual process of singing a song would snap me out of it." — Frankie Laine.

"I'm 30, and I think I'm ready for anything now. I wasn't really ready five or 10 years ago. I'm glad success didn't happen then." — Mike Minor.

"I haven't cast 'After the Fall' yet. It's hard finding young actors — they don't have the versatility young actors used to have. It's understandable, because they have nowhere to train. Broadway is dying, television gives them nothing but pup, there's very little stock. It's hard for actors. It's even worse for actresses." — Abby Mann.

Rock Hudson wants to get out of the leading man rut and do some character parts. They won't let him. He says only once in his life did he ever have a character part — for a brief period.

"There was a movie called 'Pylon,' he says. "I was supposed to play a drunk. I bought some old clothes and aged them in the rain and rubbed dirt into them. We shot for two days, and the studio said, no, I had to dress up and look pretty. So we went out and got new clothes and that was the end of my character part."

They were shooting a scene for Jerry Lewis' "Which Way to the Front?" in Griffith Park. The scene had Lewis and some others masquerading as Nazis in some World War II action.

The police were on hand, to stop the traffic just before each take. A few cars were allowed to linger, with the motors off, and watch the action. After one take, a policeman ran over to Jerry and said he'd better get to that car — he pointed to one — because there was a woman having a heart attack.

Two women were in the car. The younger said that the other, a lady in her 60s, was her mother. She had just arrived from Germany the day before to be reunited with her family. They were out on a drive to see Los Angeles.

"And my poor mother, who had survived the Nazis' concentration camps," the younger woman said, "comes to our free Los Angeles and the first thing she sees are Nazis running around the hills."

Jerry calmed her. She'll be all right, but always a little suspicious of America. (Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.)

Dust Commander surprised many people by winning the Kentucky Derby, but the 1970 3-year-old championship in horse racing still is up for grabs.

The outcome of the $50,000 Withers Mile at Aqueduct on Saturday, filling in the gap between the Derby and the Preakness, may produce another surprise contender for the crown.

A field of 10 or 11 appears probable for the Withers, headed by Buzkashi and Hagley, who have turned in sharp workouts the past week.

Other likely starters in the headline attraction of the weekend national program include Delaware Chief, Tatol, Supreme Quality, Royal Cook, Saltstone, Pass Right, Feathered Ruler, Prize Silver and Teepee Rings.

A good showing by any of these colts may swell the field for the Preakness at Pimlico a week from Saturday.

In addition to the 95th running of the Withers, the weekend program includes the $50,000 Dixie Handicap at Pimlico, the $40,000 Argonaut Stakes at Hollywood Park, the $25,000 Colonial Handicap at Garden State and three $20,000 races.

They are the Juvenile Dinner Stakes at Golden Gate Fields, the Crete Handicap at Washington Park and the My Fair Lady Stakes at Suffolk Downs.

Fort Marcy, east after competing in California, tops the 99th running of the Dixie at 1 1/4 miles over grass.

Whittingham, Haniel Bay and Top The Market had a field of 13 or more in the Argonaut Stakes, a 1 1/16 mile test over grass for 3-year-olds.

Game Is Not Over Until Last Out

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Please repeat after Moe Drabowsky: It's not over until the last man is out. It's never over until the last man is out.

Drabowsky and his Kansas City mates figured they had finally beaten Baltimore, but couldn't get the last out Thursday night.

Frank Robinson clunched a two-out, three-run homer off reliever Drabowsky's first serve to give the Orioles a dramatic 7-6 victory, their 17th straight over the Royals.

The last and only time the expansion Royals beat Baltimore was in their first meeting last year. The Orioles then won 11 in a row last year and the first six this season.

"Robinson's homer was disturbing, but I should've retired one of the other batters and not let that big guy get up there," said Drabowsky, who issued walks to pinch hitters Terry Crowley and Merv Rettenmund before Robinson's shot.

In other American League games, Milwaukee bounced Boston 5-1 behind Denny Walton's hitting; Minnesota shut off a late rally by Detroit to beat the Tigers 6-2; Roy White's two homers powered New York over Oakland 7-3 and California crushed Washington 8-0.

The National League, Cincinnati won its eighth straight by beating the skidding Chicago Cubs 5-2; Montreal buried San Francisco 15-8; San Diego clouted Philadelphia 8-2; Los Angeles topped New York 7-4 in 10 innings and Pittsburgh stopped Houston 9-5.

Robinson's homer erased a 6-4 Royal lead built on Bob Oliver's four RBI.

"We've been losing a lot of games toing into the late innings," said Kansas City Manager Charlie Metro. "Last year, the club was beaten before it got that far, so maybe that's improvement."

"But when you lose one like this, there's nothing to do but shake your head and start over in the next game."

Drabowsky also was philosophical.

"I SS I'm starting on my second 100 losses," said the tall right-hander, who lost his 100th major league game.

Walton smacked his ninth homer and three more runs came across on a throwing error as the Brewers won their fourth game of the year—all against the Red Sox.

Walton's homer, a two-run, 420-foot blast into the left-centerfield bleachers in the Milwaukee seventh, gave the Brewers all the runs they needed.

Jim Perry pitched a one-hitter through six until Detroit rallied for four runs in the seventh inning, but Minnesota hung on to top the Tigers.

The Tiger rally sent Perry to the showers, but he picked up his fifth victory in six decisions. Harmon Killebrew, hitting a homer for the fourth straight game, clouted a three-run job and Tony Oliva added a two-run blast for the Twins.

Switch-hitting Roy White hit two, three-run homers, one from each side of the plate, to pace the Yankees.

It was the eighth straight game in which White has driven in at least one run. White also scored the Yankees' other run in the fourth when he got an infield hit, took second on an infield out and came home on Bileafsky's double.

The Angels backed Tom Murphy's four-hit pitching with 13 hits in the victory over the Senators.

First baseman Jim Spencer paced the California attack with a triple, three singles and two RBI.

A two-run single by ex-Giant Jack Hiatt highlighted a six-run burst in the fifth inning that shoved the Expos in front for good. It was the most runs scored by the Expos in their two-year history.

Nate Colbert hit two solo homers for the Padres against Philadelphia and shortstop Steve Huntz, brought up from the minors less than two weeks ago, cracked his fourth homer and drove in three runs. Colbert has nine.

Al Oliver's tie-breaking two-out single in the eighth inning touched off a four-run uprising that carried Pittsburgh by Houston, snapping the Pirates' seven-game losing streak.

Alan Webb First Black Pro Coach

HEMISTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — "I'm marketable," bristled Alan Webb, "I know — that's why some of you are here. If I was white you wouldn't be here."

"But I don't care. It makes no difference to me. If I let it become a big thing, it'll only deter me from projecting with the team. If I think about it I wouldn't be coaching — I'd be carrying a big chip on my shoulder."

And so, the 37-year-old former defensive back of the New York Giants, describing himself as "not a conservative, not a radical, and very, very candid," was introduced Thursday as the first black head coach in professional football.

The occasion was a press conference to announce the signing of Webb to head coaching job of the Long Island Bulls of the Atlantic Coast Football League, and it was memorable not only for its social significance but the emotion in the air.

Webb was frank enough to point out the obvious—that a larger press corps than would normally greet the announcement of a minor league coach had turned out.

Webb has been the Bulls' defensive coach for two years and the defensive unit has been the league leader. But the team has been unable to win consistently. Webb hopes it can, and openly admits he has taken the job as a stepping-stone.

"I think this could be a good springboard to the biggie," Webb said. "I think I have the talent and the experience, but the normal route to go would be to go on after this and be an assistant coach with a big league club—that's the ranks the first black head coach will come from."

There currently are four black assistants in the NFL—Emilen Tunnel and Roosevelt Brown, teammates of Webb's on the Giant championship teams of the early 1960s, with their former club, Irv Cross of the Philadelphia Eagles, and Lionel Taylor of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Webb would like to be there. But meanwhile he's with the Bulls, and when training camp opens he will stand before his players and tell them:

"I'm black. One of my assistants is Italian. It doesn't matter."

"We're going to have players with us from all different ethnic backgrounds. Coaching is my job — your job is going out and playing with a burning desire to win."

"That's all that matters." And added Webb: "I'll be saying it as coach—not a black coach."

Kaline Hopes to Play in 14th All-Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Kaline, veteran outfielder for the Detroit Tigers is counting on votes from baseball fans to make the American League All-Star team this year at Cincinnati July 14 for the 14th time.

Kaline, hampered by injuries the last two seasons, was omitted from the list of 48 AL players nominated Thursday by managers and players.

The fans' vote on the candidates will determine the actual selections. There is an empty space for write-in choices, on the ballot and Kaline is counting on sufficient write-ins of his name to make the team.

"It could happen," said Kaline, who is hitting .330 so far this season. "Any way you make it is an honor, but if people went to all that trouble of write-ins maybe it would be more of an honor."

Among the 48 are several who played for the AL All-Stars a year ago. They include Rod Carew of Minnesota, Reggie Jackson of Oakland, Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, Frank Howard of Washington, Boog Powell of Baltimore, Bill Freehan of Detroit and Jim Fregosi of California.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who announced the candidates, said the National League nominees would be announced later. The Gillette Company is distributing the ballots through retail outlets. Voting starts May 30 and ends June 28.

The American League nominees are:
First base—Norm Cash, Detroit; Mike Epstein, Washington; Tony Horton, Cleveland; Boog Powell, Baltimore; Rich Reese, Minnesota; George Scott, Boston.
Second base—Mike Andrews, Boston; Rod Carew, Minnesota; Dick Green, Oakland, Tomlin, Harper, Milwaukee; Dave Johnson, Baltimore; Dick McAuliffe, Detroit.

Shortstop—Luis Aparicio, Chicago; Mark Belanger, Baltimore; Bert Campaneris, Oakland; Leo Cardenas, Minnesota; Jim Fregosi, California; Rico Petrocelli, Boston.
Third base—Sal Bando, Oakland; Harmon Killebrew, Minnesota; Ken McMullen, California; Bill Melton, Chicago; Brooks Robinson, Baltimore; Aurelio Rodriguez, Washington.
Catcher—Joe Azcue, California; Bill Freehan, Detroit; Elrod Hendricks, Baltimore; Duane Josephson, Chicago; George Mitterwald, Minnesota; Duke Sims, Cleveland.
Outfielders—Paul Blair, Baltimore; Rick Monday, Oakland; Reggie Smith, Boston; Ken Harrelson, Cleveland; Bobby Murcer, New York; Mickey Stanley, Detroit; Willie Horton, Detroit; Jim Northrup, Detroit; Cesar Tovar, Minnesota; Frank Howard, Washington; Tony Oliva, Minnesota; Ted Uhlaender, Cleveland; Reggie Jackson, Oakland; Lou Piniella, Kansas City; Roy White, New York; Carlos May, Chicago; Frank Robinson, Baltimore; Carl Yastrzemski, Boston.

Texas Hawk Trailing by Three Strokes

By Bob Green
Associated Press Golf Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — He came stumping down the fairway on once-shattered legs, limping badly on an injured left knee, the familiar white cap a signpost out of the past.

Ben Hogan was back, briefly, perhaps, but back at competitive golf.

And the faded Texas Hawk who dominated another era of golf received an ovation at every green from the gallery that came to study the moves of the master who won 10 major championships, including four U.S. open titles.

He responded with a par 71, a highly respectable score on the treacherous Champions Golf Club course, and trailed leader Deane Benan by just three strokes going into today's second round of the $115,000 Houston Champions International Invitational Golf Tournament.

It was the first competitive appearance in almost three years for the man who swept three major championships—the U.S. and British Opens and the Masters—in 1953.

"I must admit I was a little nervous," said Hogan, long reputed to have nerves to match his steel-gray eyes. But he made some putts when he had to—it was putting woes that forced him into a semi-retirement several years ago—and really had trouble only on the sixth hole, which he double bogeyed.

The 32-year-old Benan, who had an outstanding amateur record before turning pro only three years ago, played in relative obscurity early in the day, posted his 68, then sat back and watched Hogan play the lead.

He held a one-stroke margin over Gibby Gilbert, who had only the marshals as a gallery, Australian Bruce Crampton and Bert Greene, tied at 69.

Loading money—winner Lee Trevino headed the group at 70.

The others were Dale Douglass, Johnny Pott, Tommy Aaron, Gene Littler and Dave Hill.

South African Gary Player, one of the pre-tourney favorites for the $23,000 first prize, bogeyed the last two holes for a 72. Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper also competed.

"I'm not satisfied," the 56-year-old Hogan said. "I'm never satisfied. But I can't change the score now."

"I hope to do a little better."

"It might have been better if I didn't do a couple of stupid things. I hit a couple of child-dread shots."

That was on the sixth. He was one under, after pitching to four feet on the fifth, going to the tee but "teed the ball too low and about half topped it."

He put his second in the woods from a poor lie, but hit a tree coming out but it bounced into the fairway "just about where my tee shot should have been in the first place."

He pitched over the green, chipped back and sank a three-footer for the double bogey.

But he rallied with a 20-foot birdie putt on the next hole bogeyed three-putting both eight and nine. Hogan got the strokes back with a pair of five-foot birdie putts on 15 and 16.

Knicks Have Advantage for 7th Game

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knicks have the home court—and Willis Reed back in sneakers—tonight in the sudden-death seventh game of the National Basketball Association title playoffs with Los Angeles.

Long-suffering Knicks fans who have waited patiently for their first championship will not doubt pump some adrenalin into their heroes with tireless exhortations.

But—as the Knicks' Cazzie Russell said earlier in the playoffs—"They don't put the ball in the hold for you."

That's where Reed comes in. Importance of the Knicks' ace center was graphically demonstrated by Wednesday night's 135-113 loss to the Lakers.

While Reed watched from the bench with a bruised right hip, Los Angeles' Walt Chamberlain ate the Knicks alive with 45 points and 27 rebounds as the Lakers tied the series at 3-3.

It's true New York won the fifth game Monday night at Madison Square Garden after Reed got hurt in the first quarter, but it was a super team effort and quick change of style that baffled Los Angeles. On Wednesday night, the Lakers had time to adjust.

So the arduous season—with its seemingly never-ending crop of playoff games—comes down to one game. And for the Knicks, it hinges on a recluses' muscle, the one that Reed hurt.

The 6-foot-10, 235-pound Reed will play, but how effective he will be, is the big question mark.

Team doctors have been putting him through the most sophisticated healing processes. They've run him through a steam room, an ice plunge and a standup whirlpool.

Dr. James Parkes, the Knicks' new physician, says, "Willis is a good patient. . . he's very cooperative, and believe me, that's a lot in medicine."

After Wednesday night's loss at Los Angeles, Reed left ahead of the team to resume muscle treatments in New York.

Reed's fierce competitive spirit will no doubt have him in the game, despite Dr. Parkes' judgement that he had a "50-50" chance of starting.

The Knicks need him to stop Chamberlain—as he had in the first four games. But what if he can't?

"The little guys can do it," said the Knicks' Walt Frazier, meaning himself, Dick Barnett,

Bill Bradley, Cazzie Russell, Dave

The bridge game at Elsinore was in full swing. Hamlet, the melancholy Dane, was playing well and holding bad cards as usual.

His 10-point hand in the West seat looked mighty good to him and he put in a spade overcall, only to find his opponents in another game contract.

He opened the jack of diamonds. Polonius played dummy's king and poor Yorick, sitting East, signaled come-on by playing the six.

"To shift or not to shift, that is the question. For whether 'tis better in the mind to sit back safely and let outrageous fortune work its will or to try to conquer with another suit will soon be known. I'll try a spade."

After this brief soliloquy, Hamlet placed the queen of spades on the table.

Polonius played dummy's king. Horatio, sitting North, smiled happily when the king held but the smile was wasted on Polonius. He could see game and rubber going to the place from which there is no return.

He drew trumps, led the 10 of clubs and let it ride. Yorick won with the king and, for want of anything better to do, led back a spade.

Polonius could play either of his spades but Hamlet took his ace and 10.

The rubber was still going on and Hamlet decided that maybe nothing was rotten in the State of Denmark after all.

Nervous Tension, a Cause Of Restlessness in Sleep
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I lead a very sedentary life. Sometimes I waken during the night and am unable to go back to sleep because I can't bear to remain in the same position for more than a few seconds. What causes this and what can I do for it?

A—This type of restlessness affects everyone at times. It is caused by nervous tension. Some persons are helped by getting up and engaging in physical exercise until they are tired or by drinking a glass of warm milk. But the best treatment is to master the art of progressive relaxation.

Q—Just as I drift off to sleep, I am sometimes wakened by a violent jerking. Is there any cure for this?

A—This is a common accompaniment of nervous fatigue and increased tension. It calls for a calmer way of life and an earlier hour for retiring.

Q—My husband snores regularly. What determines the sex of a child? I have heard that if a woman conceives when she has her climax before her husband it will surely be a girl.

A—In spite of many old wives' tales, there is a 50-50 chance of having a boy in any given pregnancy. The sex determiners are carried only in the sperms, half of which carry male and half female determiners. Try flipping a coin 100 times and keep track of the sequence of heads or tails. The totals will be nearly equal but you may be surprised how many consecutive tosses are heads and how many are tails.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Conjoined twins are referred to as "Siamese" twins. The World Almanac says the name was derived from conjoined twins Chang and Eng Bunker, born at Bangsawu, Thailand (Siam), on April 15, 1811. In April, 1833, the twins married two sisters, Sarah and Adelaide Yates, and fathered about 20 children. They died within three hours of each other on Jan. 17, 1874.

Protestors Vow to Go to Capital
By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Promising a disciplined, nonviolent demonstration, antiwar protestors vow they will bring a mass march as close to the White House as possible Saturday despite government efforts to keep them blocks away at the Washington Monument.

Protest leaders have pledged to bring more than 30,000 demonstrators to the capital protesting Vietnam, Cambodia, and the killing of four students at Kent State University.

The monument is several blocks away from the White House, and the New Mobe—the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam—rejected that site Wednesday as a rallying point.

Official Washington reacted nervously. The Justice Department made plans to cordon off a four-block long, two-block wide area surrounding the White House.

"Things are heavy," a flyer put out by the New Mobe on the march said. "Things are very, very heavy."

As never before, the flyer added, the peace movement needs to keep its house in order during a time of rising national emotions.

"We call for a nonviolent, disciplined demonstration on Saturday because to do otherwise would be suicide for the movement and delay the end of the war," reads the flyer, an appeal for marshals to keep order during the demonstrations.

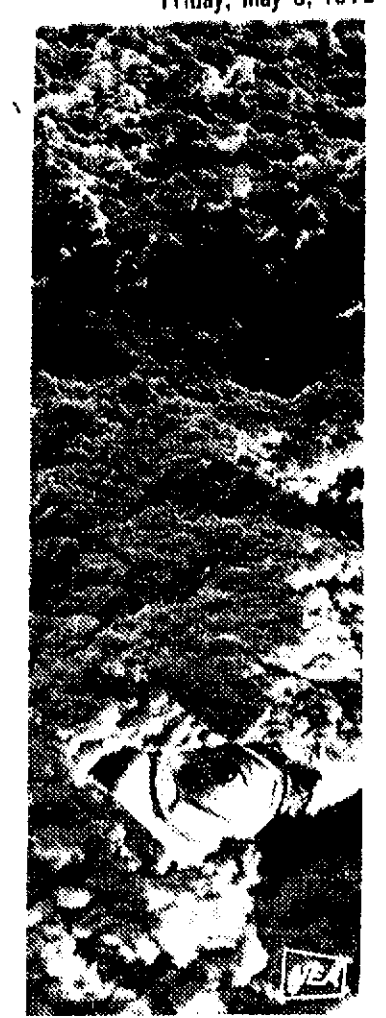

The government and protest leaders have been at odds over logistics since the New Mobe announced plans for the demonstration in the wake of President Nixon's announcement of the U.S. incursion into Cambodia.

Both sides remained far apart Wednesday despite—in sharp contrast to its approach to the massive antiwar rally last November—conciliatory gestures by the government, which went to court to insure the protestors a permit to use the Washington Monument grounds.

New Mobe officials had sought permission to use Lafayette Square, a small, grassy park just the width of Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House.

Blame for the war abroad and violence and death at home must be laid at the doorstep of the President, New Mobe officials declared.

"If that means we must stop at the north edge of Lafayette Square, that is where we will stop," said New Mobe spokesman Ron Young.

Second Sunday in May

...in America that means Mother. Every second Sunday in May is Mother's Day, one of the greatest of special days. It is a time when men, women, boys and girls take pains to do her homage, to dedicate to her — with simplicity and love, the simplest of things she wants most. Since it is her day, may the countless details and careful planning be in strict accord with her varied tastes. May we never forget life's uncertainties, disappointments and failures as we make plans to celebrate. May we forget all the foibles of men and remember her love is steadfast, sure. Who else can kiss a hurt and make it well? Who but Mother can control the Prodigal's steps? Then honor her with all you have on this Lord's Day. Lend a constant, kind and friendly hand as you take her to church. It is your Mother's Day.

Homemakers Week Observance May 3-9

Hope High School Family Living Class shares the enthusiasm and interest of Hempstead County Homemakers in an opportunity to learn some of the latest information about Freezer Equipment and Freezing Techniques. Pictured left to right— Norma Ellis, Doris Cooper, Sandy

Sinyard, Kay Clayton, Debbie Owens and Mrs. Helen Clark, Hope High School Home Economics Instructor. This class has prepared posters that focus attention on freezer problems and encourages participation of homemakers in educational meetings to be presented by the Cooperative Extension Service, Wednesday, May 13 and Thursday, May 14, from 1:00 — 3:00 p.m. in the Coliseum. Elizabeth Ellis, Extension Equipment Specialist, will assist Hempstead County Extension Professional Staff, Dolores Mc-Bride, Extension Home Economist and Mrs. Alphonso Denham, Associate Extension Home Economist, and Mrs. Rebecca Crough, Associate Extension Home Economist— Nutrition. Attend this educational opportunity May 13-14.

Hempstead County recognizes the strength and influence of Extension Homemakers during E.H. Week (May 3-9) as they partake of knowledge to improve the homes.

Mrs. Ivan Bright, Hempstead County Extension Homemaker Council President, presides at County Board of Directors Meeting. Club presidents of the eighteen E.H. clubs, county leaders and chairmen meet throughout the year to discuss problems and needs. Educational activities are planned to provide learning experiences of the latest research in homemaking and make practical applications.

man; Mrs. W.T. Keys, president of Southeast Club; Mrs. Gene Pendergraft, president of Hopewell Club; Mrs. Vernie Goyne, president of Centerville Club; Mrs. A.M. Hewitt, president of Shover Springs Club; Mrs. Earl Thompson, vice president of Crossroads Club; Mrs. James Voss, president of Fulton Club; Mrs. Carl Hicks, secretary-treasurer of Crossroads Club; Mrs. Lyle Allen vice-president of County E.H. Council. Mrs. Dexter Alford, County E.H. Council Secretary-Treasurer, is seated facing group in business session. "I believe in my own work as a homemaker. I believe that the greatest force that molds character comes from the home and I pledge myself to create a home which is morally wholesome, spiritually satisfying, and physically healthful and convenient." These words are part of the Extension Homemakers' Creed and this week over twenty-one thousand members in more than one thousand clubs through out Arkansas are observing their special week.

Their creed goes ahead to say, "I believe that through working together in a group we can enlarge the opportunities, enrich the life of our people, and create a more contented family and community life."

Thus we see that these homemakers have, as the very core of their program, a concern for the family and the environment. A major part of their studies throughout the year have to do with family life education. They are reaffirming their belief, that the family is the basic unit of our society, and has the primary responsibility for developing values, freedom, initiative, and self-discipline in children.

So, if you see Extension Homemakers this week taking part in educational activities, please know that they are, in the words of their creed, "providing for continuous improvement in all levels of living."

Student Job Takers Need SS Number

Thousands of students across the country will go to work for the first time this summer. If you are one of these, you need a social security number as you start building your personal insurance protection with social security coverage, according to Otis A. Blackwood, district manager.

You must apply for a social security account number to gain this protection. This number is used to keep your record throughout life. No two persons are given the same number.

Your employer will ask for your number as soon as you begin work, and many companies will not hire you until you have a number. If you are a young man about to go into military service, your military records will all be recorded by using your social security number.

To get a number, you must complete an Application for a Social Security Account Number and submit it to a social security office. The application form may be obtained at any social security office, or the post office in your town.

If you are under 16 years of age and never had a number before, you can be assigned a number immediately. If you are older, or if you have had a previous number, your application will have to be sent to the social security records office in Baltimore, Maryland, where it is checked against the other records to make sure you have not already been assigned a number or to be sure you get the same one. After the records are checked, a social security card is mailed to your home. This usually takes at least two weeks.

Although as a student you are a long way from retirement age, the protection you begin now can benefit you in a very short time. Mr. Blackwood said, "For instance, if you were to become severely disabled while you are still young, you could receive disability benefits after working as little as one and a half

Hike on Auto Insurance Requested

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Insurance Rating Board, which represents about 40 per cent of the companies that write automobile insurance in Arkansas, has asked the state Insurance Department for another series of rate increases that average about 0.7 per cent for each passenger car.

State Insurance Commissioner Allen W. Hore said the companies were seeking higher liability, collision and comprehensive rates for private passenger cars, higher rates for uninsured motorist coverage and a slight reduction for medical payments coverage.

Hore said the proposed rates would produce an average increase per car of $11.40 for bodily injury liability, $9.90 a car for full comprehensive insurance, $10.42 a car for $50 deductible collision insurance and $15.09 a car for $100 deductible collision. He said the decrease for medical payments insurance would be 38 cents.

Bad Check to Cut Off Gas Service

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission says Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. has the right to cut off a customer's gas without notice if the customer pays his bill with a bad check.

The vote was 2-1 with Commission Chairman Lewis M. Robinson and Commissioner Robert C. Downie in the majority. Commissioner Don S. Smith dissented.

Smith said in his dissenting opinion that the utility should be required to give some kind of notice before disconnecting service.

Robinson and Downie said the gas company's procedure on bad checks had been approved previously by the PSC and that there was "no substantial evidence" that the practice was "unjust, unreasonable, damaging or injurious to the public health."

David A. Hibbs of Little Rock and 33 other persons filed a formal complaint with the PSC Feb. 11, alleging that the regulation was unjust and damaging to the public health.

Soviet Subs Spotted in Caribbean

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — The U.S. Navy announced today that three Soviet naval ships have entered the Caribbean Sea and are under surveillance by U.S. planes.

A statement from the 10th Naval District in San Juan said two submarines and a submarine tender entered the Mona Passage off western Puerto Rico at about 2 a.m. today.

It said three other Soviet ships were about 250 miles behind the first three. This second group, the statement said, consisted of a Kresta class guided missile cruiser, a Kanin class guided missile destroyer, and an oiler.

The Navy said the two submarines in the first group were conventionally powered vessels.

Showers and Cool Wave for State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A low pressure center is expected to enter Arkansas by Saturday afternoon or evening. The front will bring some shower and thundershower activity, but not widespread rain.

The U.S. Weather Bureau is predicting cooler temperatures Sunday and Monday as the front passes through the state. Thursday was another day in a week of beautiful, sunny days for Arkansas. A few clouds developed in the late afternoon, but by evening the skies were again reported clear.

Highs Thursday ranged from 85 at Jonesboro to 80 at Harrison.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 60; Harrison, 63; Jonesboro, 62; Pine Bluff, 62; Texarkana, 58; El Dorado, 52; Memphis, 65; Little Rock, 56; and Fort Smith, 57.

No precipitation was recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 7:30 a.m. today. years. These benefits could continue for the rest of your life if you do not regain the ability to work.

R.J. Hampton May Be First Negro to Run for State Governor

By BILL SIMMONS

Associated Press Writer NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The signs first said, "Hampton could be governor."

Now they say, "Hampton should be governor."

The shift in emphasis is not a change in plans, but rather a movement from one step to another—first, that the Rev. R. J. Hampton, a black man, could win the office; second, that his credentials are such that he, as much as any other man, is entitled and qualified to possess it.

The steps are part of a plan which underlies Hampton's drift toward the day when he will decide whether to actually become the first Negro candidate within memory for the office of governor.

"Being a candidate, even with no chance of winning, could have its good results, but obviously it would be better to have a chance to win, and I think I would have a good chance," Hampton said in an interview.

If the odds are not wholly in favor of a black candidate, they are, at least, better than black candidates in Arkansas in the past have faced, Hampton said.

"Some people feel that there is a probability or a possibility that if circumstances fall into place there could be a black governor," he said. "Things would have to break just right, but it could happen."

That was the message of the first batch of posters that Hampton's small but energetic organization began to display around the state: "Hampton could be governor."

The new message is that he should be.

Hampton, 34, told the Arkansas AM&N College student body on Tuesday: "I will stack up my credentials or qualifications against those of any other candidate."

The credentials include his role as president of Shorter College in North Little Rock, his four business enterprises, his ministry and position as elder in the African Methodist Episcopal Church and other activities.

In his 1½ years as president of Shorter, teacher salaries have been raised 45 per cent, enrollment in the freshman class is 40 per cent of the freshman enrollment of all junior colleges in the state, federal funds have been secured for the first time by the school, and the physical plant has undergone improvements, Hampton said.

In a speech to a predominantly white group at an Arkansas college, Hampton said recently that on the basis of his abilities and plans for operating state government almost any audience would agree that he could and would be elected "if I were white."

But Hampton, a native of Newport, is the first to assert that comparing "credentials," or "qualifications" for office can be meaningless as a measure of a man's likely competence as governor.

"What are the qualifications for becoming governor?" he asked. "What were the Rockefeller qualifications? What were Faubus' qualifications? Sld McMahon, as are many politicians, was a lawyer, but is reading for the law really a qualification for an administrative position? What were Cherry's qualifications?"

There are, Hampton said, no particular qualifications for the office, but, if any potential candidate desires to make a contest by comparing past accomplishments, "I am ready."

A pivotal point in his plan calls for unification of the black vote. Solidified black support gave Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller victory over avowed segregationist Jim Johnson, the Democratic party nominee, in the 1968 election, Hampton said.

A black candidacy will test a number of theories, Hampton said. He included these:

— That blacks won't support a black candidate.

— That white liberals may be hesitant to choose a qualified black candidate over a less-qualified white.

Efforts to unify the black vote are being carried out in his behalf, he said, by such groups as the Committee for the Liberation of Blacks at Hot Springs, the Black United Youth chapters across the state, the Black United Students group at AM&N, and the Rev. Cato Brooks' COMBAT — Community Organization Methods Build Absolute Teamwork.

Such groups have been considered by some to be in a more militant vein than most

Susan Cobb to Graduate at SS

MAGNOLIA— Susan Cobb, senior Spanish major from Hope, will be a candidate for the bachelor of arts degree from Southern State College at commencement here May 23, according to James L. Smyth, registrar.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cobb of 402 South Fulton and a 1966 graduate of Hope High School, Miss Cobb is resident assistant of Harrod Hall, and a member of Stagecrafters, Alpha Psi Omega (honorary drama fraternity), Alpha Chi, scholastic society, and the Student Senate.

She is former president of Harrod Hall, women's residence hall, and was chosen for inclusion in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Negroes favor in Arkansas, but Hampton said "militancy" is not complete description. "They are active," he said. "That's all it is. They are young enough and dedicated enough and know what they want and are willing to make the sacrifices for it. They are typical of the kind of people who built the skyscrapers and made this country great."

Nickel Tops Tobacco As Cuban Export

MIAMI (AP) — Nickel has replaced tobacco as Cuba's second biggest export commodity, the Cuban exile news agency, AIP, reported today. Sugar continues far in front.

Known nickel deposits in the former U.S.-owned Niagar and Mao mines of eastern Cuba have increased to 3 million tons, or 40 per cent of the world's total, AIP said.

The report, prepared by economist Rafael Rivas Vazquez, listed Cuba's 1968 nickel production as 37,000 tons as against 34,900 the previous year. Average production before the Fidel Castro regime was 14,000 tons annually.

The bulk of nickel exports go to the Soviet Union, AIP reported. There are smaller exports to France and Spain, it added.

Organs that produce seeds are flowers and thus the towers of pine trees are their cones

Alliteration;
We Go Up the Saline River

Marvin Watterson came up the other day with a pat saying carried over from the pre-automobile era:

"It's not the heavy hauling that hurts the horses' hooves—but the hammer, hammer, hammer, on the hard highway."

Alliteration is the name of it—if you took away the "h," note you'd have nothing.

I deserted this post Thursday to go fishing—under extenuating circumstances. A promise was out to show a Little Rock man our Millwood Lake, and when he showed up with a schedule to fit I had to make good on my invitation.

We left Hope at 5:30 a.m., wet a hook at 7:20—and in a split-second I caught a one-pound white perch, the only catch we landed all morning. Only then did I note that the solar tables showed the minor period ending about that time—with the major period occurring during the afternoon.

Our experience seemed to be duplicated in other boats, most of which reported single catches. The lake bristled with fishermen on this middle-of-the-week day, and my guest suggested that if there were a crowd like this on a Thursday what it would be like on week-ends defied the imagination. I told him the Corps of Engineers report showed 1,300,000 visiting Millwood in a year, and he nodded belief.

Our single catch was at Baker's Bluff, after which we went up Saline River to the end of navigation. Last time I saw the upper end of the Saline it had plenty of greenery—but that's all changed now.

The trees are dead, many of them falling; and what used to be a fairly well defined channel is now a tanglewood, saved by the fact that channel markers have been installed.

Still, my visitor was impressed with the vastness of a venturesome lake that now has the reputation of being Arkansas' best fishing grounds.

On returning about 11:30 a.m. and looking at the lone fish we had caught I recalled the story about Lloyd Spencer and a bank auditor trying their luck in Grassy Lake. The day's catch was one fish and the auditor said, "Lloyd, have you ever thought what this one fish cost you—counting the cost of the club membership, the boat, and the time involved?"

"Stop," came the reply, "you're ruining my day."

Which, in fishermen's parlance, was the understatement of the year.

Ex-Wife Doubts Faubus

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Alta Faubus is wondering if her ex-husband, former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, should be taken seriously in his remarks about salary increases.

Mrs. Faubus made the statement in a "publisher's note" in this week's edition of The Madison County Record. Mrs. Faubus, who was divorced from the former governor in 1969, is publisher of the newspaper.

The note said: "I wonder if Orval should be taken seriously about the salary raises. I think he missed his chance when he left the $42 million as surplus instead of giving it to the teachers, welfare clients and police. I was taught that actions speak louder than words."

It was signed "Alta."

Teachers Fight Unfair Raises

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. James Cranford of Malvern, president of the Malvern Classroom Teachers Association, said today teachers were upset because of what she called the inequity of salary raises approved by the School Board.

Mrs. Cranford said coaches in the district were given an average raise of $700 a year while classroom teachers were given $125 increases.

A meeting between the association and the School Board was scheduled this afternoon to discuss the salary situation.

Unemployed Rate Takes New Jump

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today a sharp rise in the nation's unemployment from 4.4 to 4.8 per cent of the civilian labor force, highest level in five years.

The rise of four-tenths of 1 per cent equaled the sharpest one-month increase since the recession of 1960.

The report by the Labor Department said the number of jobless rose about 300,000 last month to a total of nearly four million and virtually all of the increase was among men who usually work full time.

The report also noted a marked increase in the jobless rate for Negroes whose unemployment totals had been rising proportionately less than for white workers in the last several months.

"The unemployment rate for Negro workers rose much more markedly than for whites in April, climbing from 7.1 to 8.7 per cent. The white rate increased from 4.1 to 4.3 per cent," said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The jobless rate for men rose from 2.9 to 3.2 per cent to a total of 1.5 million, the rate for women edged down one-tenth to 4.4 per cent for a total of 1.2 million and the rate for teenagers rose from 13.9 to 15.7 per cent for a total of 883,000, the report said.

This made a total of 3,552,000, down 181,000 in actual numbers from March but figured as a seasonally adjusted rise of 231,000 because unemployment normally drops much more sharply in April as construction, agriculture and other seasonal industries pick up.

The bureau also reported that average hourly earnings for some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose one cent to $3.18 in April, up 20 cents or 6.7 per cent above a year ago. However, inflation has wiped out the wage gains.

"Average weekly earnings were virtually unchanged over the month. Among the major industries, increases in weekly earnings and construction and trade were countered by declines in manufacturing, mining, and finance, insurance and real estate," the bureau said.

The average weekly wage stood at $117.98, up 5.6 per cent over the year but down four-tenths of 1 per cent in purchasing power because of the more than 6 per cent rise in living costs for more than a year.

Construction has been particularly hard hit.

Most Significant North-South Line Is Age—Not Dixon

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the shadow frontiers of life is middle age.

Do you live north or south of that border?

Some people fear that frontier some years before they reach it. Others cross it without even realizing it. After all, life's highway doesn't have a sign saying: "55 miles to middle age—turn right at next intersection."

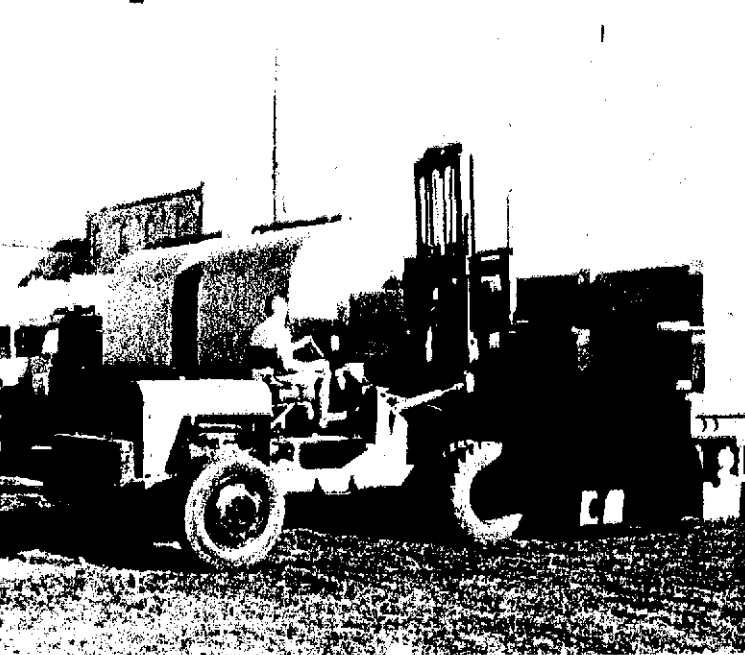

Do you live north or south of that border? Well, there are ways to tell. You are probably middle-aged if—

You have been confronted with so many crises in your time that a new one only makes you yawn.

Sometimes when you think it's thundering outside you find out you've merely been hearing your arteries harden inside.

You read a newspaper backward instead of forward so you can postpone as long as possible reading the bad news on the front page.

Local Manufacturer Ships to Costa Rica

The Morris Harwell Co. recently made their first shipment of dry kiln equipment to a country outside of the United States. This shipment went to a customer in Costa Rica, the southernmost Central American state.

Shipment was made by truck from Hope to Greenville, Miss., where it was loaded on an ocean-going ship to its destination. According to Morris Harwell, company president, this local firm is presently negotiating with other foreign customers and hopes to be shipping to other areas soon.

This company manufactures dry kiln equipment, refuse burners, and other equipment for the sawmill trade.

Cambodian War Funds Threatened

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats, with the blessing of Republican Leader Hugh Scott, have moved to bring an early Senate showdown on a proposal aimed at cutting off funds for U.S. operations in Cambodia.

The bipartisan proposal, an amendment to a military sales bill, could come before the Senate as soon as the end of next week with a vote the following week.

But even if the Senate adopts it, House action would be doubtful in view of that body's refusal to support any curbs on the U.S. incursion into Cambodia.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Thursday approval of the curbs by the Senate would mean "the imprimatur will have been made." And he said "the advice given may be taken" by the administration.

The amendment is sponsored by four members of the Foreign

Cong Mortar and Rocket Fire Loosed

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese battered South Vietnam's northernmost provinces with hundreds of rockets and mortars early today in a new "high point" of attacks.

A South Vietnamese task force also was hit hard in the Cambodian operations, with 50 men reported killed and 200 wounded in heavy fighting Thursday in the Parrot's Beak north of Svay Rieng. But Saigon claimed its force of Rangers and armored vehicles killed 234 Viet Cong and captured 103.

A 30,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops continued their drive against North Vietnamese and Viet Cong bases and supply depots in Cambodia, the enemy shelled 64 bases and towns in South Vietnam.

Da Nang, the country's second largest city, and two other provincial capitals, just to the south, Hoi An and Tam Ky, were hit hardest. North Vietnamese commandos battled their way into the streets of Hoi An and Tam Ky, raiding government supply depots.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 75 Vietnamese were killed and 83 wounded in the attacks on the three cities and the mining of a bus south of Da Nang.

Thirty-one enemy troops were reported killed.

Tam Ky, 35 miles south of Da Nang, was hit by more than 300 mortar and rocket rounds. Widespread damage was reported to the city.

Total of 227 Colleges Are Closed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Some 227 colleges and universities were closed today in the widening protest against the war in Indochina and the fatal shooting of four students at Kent State University. Strikes and demonstrations curtailed classes at hundreds of others.

In Washington, the vanguard of thousands of students expected to participate in an antiwar rally Saturday began arriving from throughout the country.

Most of the campuses remained peaceful but violence flared overnight at several schools.

At least four youths at the State University at Buffalo were hit by birdshot fired during a police-student confrontation. It was not immediately determined who fired the pellets.

The incident came as about 60 city police and 400 students clashed in a tear gas and rock-throwing melee. Two of the injured students were treated at a makeshift infirmary.

National Guardsmen in Carbondale, Ill., hurled tear gas and advanced with fixed bayonets to rout large bands of students at Southern Illinois University.

They scattered some 300 demonstrators from the Illinois Central Railroad tracks where they had delayed the Panama Limited streamliner, New Orleans-bound from Chicago, for 50 minutes.

The fleeing students smashed dozens of store windows as they ran. They were the nucleus of some 1,200 protesters who earlier sat down in the intersection of U.S. 51 and Illinois 13 in the downtown section.

Dissenting students at the University of Wisconsin clashed with Madison police for the fourth consecutive night. Several campus buildings were fire-bombed and fire fighters doused 40 to 45 blazes, but most of the damage was minor.

Police responded with tear gas in foggers and canisters. The students grouped in small bands to make themselves difficult targets for mass applications of the gas.

At least seven persons were injured Thursday night at the University of Washington as small bands of demonstrators

Wisconsin U. President Resigns

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Fred H. Harrington resigned today as president of the University of Wisconsin, scene of four days of violent antiwar demonstrations.

Harrington, 57, submitted his resignation at a Board of Regents meeting. He will become a professor in history on the university staff effective Oct. 1.

Harrington told the board he had planned the move for some time, adding that it was unfortunate that it came "at this time of crisis."

6 Districts Cited on Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — An official of the state Education Department said today that a list of six school districts would be given to the Justice Department for failure to say whether they intend to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Earl Willis, consultant to local school boards for the state Education Department, said the six districts failed to tell the department by Wednesday's deadline whether they intended to submit desegregation plans to avoid an antidesegregation suit by the Justice Department.

Informers on Drugs May Get as High as $50,000 From U.S.

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government says it may, in some cases, pay an informer more than $50,000 in its drive to crack high-level illegal drug supply conspiracies.

John E. Ingersoll told of the high price of information to a somewhat skeptical House appropriations subcommittee considering a $439,000 "informers fund" request for his Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

"In order to successfully penetrate these high-level conspiracies we need the assistance of high-level confidential informants," Director Ingersoll testified last March. The closed-door transcript was made public today.

"This cooperation does not come cheaply," he went on. "In one case, for example, a payment to an individual may exceed $50,000 for information."

Ingersoll did not get more specific but he said the money request also takes into account protection of informants.

The $439,000 includes $250,000 for emergency expenses authorized by the attorney general which would be accounted for solely on his certificate.

But subcommittee Chairman Johnny J. Rooney, D-N.Y., said the quarter million dollars is 3½ times as much as the FBI has for this same purpose, "and they are doing business with bank robbers, kidnapers, murders, et cetera, et cetera."

Rooney also told Ingersoll his bureau's over-all budget request breaks down to about $18,000 per arrest forecast for the next fiscal year.

"I think what we are trying to do is to get up into the higher echelons of the traffic," Ingersoll responded when asked by Rooney to justify the cost.

"You said that a year ago," Rooney replied. "It does not look as though you are getting anywhere when you will have only 1,875 arrests as compared with 4,192 last year. Is that a fair question?"

"Many of these 4,192 arrests last year were of a smaller scale than the 1,875," Ingersoll replied. "I think we will be in a position to demonstrate to you that the fewer arrests will be of more significant traffickers, people who deal in larger quantities and at the wholesale level and the distribution level, and, therefore, we will be able to remove more of the drugs from the traffic."

The director testified that more than 200 individual drug distribution systems have been identified throughout the world, with nine major groups selected as the bureau's primary targets.

"We estimate that these nine major systems supply approximately 80 per cent of the heroin, almost 100 per cent of the cocaine, tons of marijuana, and millions of dosage units of dangerous drugs being used in the United States today," Ingersoll said.

Forty-nine of the 75 county judges in the state responded to a poll conducted by Edward Thickett, a sophomore at Westark Junior College here, and 34 said they could not support the proposed document.

Only four said they could support the constitution which will be submitted to the voters in the November general election and 11 said they were undecided.

If approved, the proposed document would replace the current 1874 Constitution. The restructured county government system in the proposed constitution would greatly reduce the power of the county judge.

Nixon to Speak Ahead of Protest

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With thousands of antiwar protesters heading for a hurriedly called demonstration in the nation's capital, President Nixon has moved to ease the crisis mounting over the use of American troops in Cambodia.

The President scheduled a news conference tonight at 10 p.m. EDT—his first nationally televised session with newsmen since Jan. 30 on the eve of a demonstration here expected to draw tens of thousands of protesters.

Even as the President prepared for the news conference at his Maryland mountain retreat Thursday night and today, demonstrators were evident in Washington—on Capitol Hill, near the White House and on college campuses.

Nixon is expected to take a conciliatory approach to the demonstrators, mostly young people, following the stance he adopted Thursday when he told several college and university presidents the administration would soften its hostile tone toward the dissidents.

Calls went out for the Saturday protest after Nixon announced a week ago that a joint U.S.-South Vietnamese attack had been mounted into Cambodia.

Spurred by the deaths Monday of four students when Ohio National Guardsmen opened fire on demonstrators at Kent State University, protests have swept many college campuses, often resulting in violence and student strikes.

Leaders of the Saturday demonstration have talked in terms of up to 35,000 persons for a protest in Lafayette Square just across the street from the White House, although officials say the dissenters will not be allowed that close. It was not known whether the President will be in Washington during the demonstration.

Other reports estimate the crowd at close to 100,000 persons, posing a problem for both government officials and protest leaders planning steps for controlling the demonstration.

The rally leaders held crash training programs for marshals to keep the demonstration within its stated nonviolent goal, while the 2,000-man District of Columbia National Guard was being prepared along with Washington police.

There were indications U.S. officials were leaning toward relying on local authority and the National Guard available in the Washington area without drawing paratroopers and Marines from other bases.

Officials said whatever military force is gathered probably will be kept as much out of sight as possible unless troubles develop requiring its use.

The toughest problem revolves around the dispute over the demonstration site. Officials, saying the two-block Lafayette Square is too close to the White House for safety, have ordered the park to be cordoned off, creating a demilitarized zone-like area a block north of the executive mansion.

Boy, 6, and Dog Found After Search

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Bobby Love, 6, and his dog were found in a wooded area shortly before 10 a.m. today after 300 volunteers had combed the area for almost 15 hours since the boy was reported missing Wednesday.

Love, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norvell Love, told police that he had wandered away from home and became lost in the woods. He said that after dark he made a bed of weeds, huddled with his dog and went to sleep.

About 300 local residents joined in the search with state and local authorities. Three bus loads of students in grades 9-12 were dismissed from class to participate in the search.

Both boy and dog were reported in good condition.
